- Willingness to participate in, and respond to, for example, artistic, musical, sporting, mathematical, technological, scientific and cultural opportunities
- Interest in exploring, understanding of, and respect for cultural diversity and the extent to which they understand, accept, respect and celebrate diversity, as shown by their attitudes towards different religious, ethnic and socio-economic groups in the local, national and global communities.

Aims

At West Moors Middle School, the children and their learning are at the very heart of every decision made. We aim to develop learners who are passionate, take ownership of their learning and are proud of their achievements. The ethos of our school is such that all people who come into our school, whether staff, pupil, parents or visitor, are valued as individuals in their own right. They should set, and be entitled to expect from others, good standards of behaviour, marked by respect and responsibility in a safe environment.

The school will help the children to develop an inner self and will encourage children to not just 'follow the crowd' they will make up their own minds and be ready to accept responsibility for what they do. They will grow through making choices and holding to the choices that they have made (Pupil Choices agenda). They will want to be honest with themselves and with others.

Planning

In planning lessons, teachers are aware of the need to plan opportunities to develop a wide variety of spiritual, moral, social and cultural needs. A vast majority will be delivered through cross curricular activities as well as specific PSHE, RE and Circle Time activities.

Spiritual Development

At West Moors Middle School Planning opportunities for spiritual development in all subjects can be seen across the school. Children are given opportunities to reflect upon the meaning of spiritual experiences. Examples of experiences commonly regarded as spiritual include:

- Curiosity and mystery
- Awe and wonder
- Connection and belonging
- Heightened self-awareness
- Prayer and worship
- Deep feelings of what is felt to be ultimately important
- A sense of security, well-being, worth and purposefulness

The school will develop a climate or ethos within which all children can grow and flourish, respect others and be respected; accommodating difference and respecting the integrity of individuals. These can occur during any part of the school day, e.g. when listening to music, discussing the care needed for animals, exercising empathy or creativity, how we live, contemplating the future, etc.

Moral Development

At West Moors Middle School, we believe that a morally aware pupil will develop a wide range of skills, these can include the following:

- Distinguish right from wrong, based on knowledge of the moral codes of their own and other cultures
- Develop an ability to think through the consequences of their own and others' actions
- Have an ability to make responsible and reasoned judgements
- Ensure a commitment to personal values
- Have respect for others' needs, interests and feelings, as well as their own
- Develop a desire to explore their own and others' views, and an understanding of the need to review and reassess their values, codes and principles in the light of experience.

West Moors Middle School develops pupil moral development by:

- Providing a clear moral code as a basis for behaviour which is promoted consistently through all aspects of the school
- Promoting racial, religious and other forms of equality
- Giving children opportunities across the curriculum to explore and develop moral concepts and values- for example, personal rights and responsibilities, truth, justice, equality of opportunity, right and wrong
- Developing an open and safe learning environment in which children can express their views and practice moral decision making
- Rewarding expressions of moral insights and good behaviour
- Recognising and respecting the codes and morals of the different cultures representing in the school and wider community
- Encouraging children to take responsibility for their actions, for example, respect for property, care of the environment, and developing codes of behaviour, providing models of moral virtue through literature, humanities, sciences, arts and assemblies; reinforcing the school's values through images, posters, classroom displays, etc. and monitoring in simple ways, the success of what is provided.

At West Moors Middle School, teachers always discuss with their classes a code of conduct for the classroom based on the values held by the school. We teach the children to be aware of their own actions, take responsibility for their own bodies and encourage independence in a safe environment. We will help the children to identify their feelings and think these through so that they are expressed in behaviour that is socially acceptable. This is done through assemblies, restorative conversations, Jigsaw circle time, nurture groups and PSHE. We are interested in the development of the whole child and endeavour to raise their self-esteem through the use of praise points, house points, stickers and awards.

Social Development

At West Moors Middle School, we recognise that the children who are becoming socially aware are likely to be developing the ability to:

- Adjust to a range of social contexts by appropriate and sensitive behaviour
- Relate well to others people's social skills and personal qualities
- Work successfully, as a member of a group or team
- Share views and opinions with others
- Resolve conflicts maturely and appropriately (Restorative Practice)
- Reflect on their own contribution to society
- Show respect for people, living things, property and the environment
- Exercise responsibility
- Understand how societies function and are organised in structures such as family, the school, the local community
- Understand the notion of interdependence in an increasingly complex society

West Moors Middle School develops pupil social development by:

- Identifying key values and principles on which school and community life is based
- Fostering a sense of community, with common, inclusive values
- Promoting racial, religious and other forms of equality
- Encouraging children to work co-operatively
- Encouraging children to recognise and respect social differences and similarities
- Providing positive experiences to reinforce our values as a school community- for example through assemblies, team building activities, residential experiences, school productions
- Helping children develop personal qualities which are valued in a civilised society, for example, thoughtfulness, honesty, respect for difference, moral principles, independence, interdependence, self-respect and an awareness of others' needs
- Providing opportunities for engaging in the democratic process and participating in community life
- Providing opportunities for children to exercise leadership and responsibility
- Providing positive and effective links with the world of work and wider community
- Monitoring in simple, pragmatic ways, the success of what is provided

Cultural Development

At West Moors Middle School, children should be made aware of the diversity of other cultures both within modern Britain and throughout the world. This can be done through music, PE, art, international links, visits and many other curriculum areas.

At West Moors Middle School, children who are becoming culturally aware are likely to be developing some or all of the following characteristics:

- An ability to reflect on important questions of meaning and identity
- An interest in exploring the relationship between human beings and the environment

West Moors Middle School develops children's cultural development by:

- Extending children's knowledge and use of cultural imagery and language
- Encouraging them to think about special events in life and how they are celebrated
- Recognising and nurturing particular gifts and talents; providing opportunities for children to participate in literature, drama, music, art, crafts and other cultural events and encouraging children to reflect on their significance
- Reinforcing the school's cultural links through displays, posters, exhibitions, etc. as well as developing partnerships with outside agencies and individuals to extend children's cultural awareness, for example, theatre, museum and gallery visits
- Auditing the quality and nature of opportunities for children to extend their cultural development across the curriculum in collaboration with the subject co-ordinators of PSHE, MFL and school council.

Pupil Voice

The terms 'Pupil Voice', Learning Ambassadors, Eco Council and School Council describes how children give their input to what happens within the school and classroom. Our desire is for children to know that their expertise, opinions and ideas are valued in all aspects of school life. Pupil Voice permeates all levels of our work together, from children participating in small group classroom conversations to children establishing procedures, events and contributing to the overarching ethos of the school.
